Cashews With a Story

Togo

About the Project

Tradin Organic works closely on the ground with a local partner to source, process and deliver high-quality Organic Cashews from Togo. Since 2019, 2500 ha of cashew fields have been certified organic. In this project, we are committed to help farmers receive attractive organic premiums and offer organic cashews with superior quality to our customers. Together with our partner, we strive to improve cashew farming practices, help more local cashew farmers receive organic certification and optimize production and processing.

Local Processing

Cashews grown and processed in Togo. Around 1,200 local farmers in 5 prefectures are included in this project. Our local partner has employed technicians to train farmers and help them obtain organic certification. After the harvest of cashews, farmer cooperatives collect nuts in their own warehouses and transport them to our local partner's factory. The raw cashew nuts go through many processing steps including drying, shelling, sorting and are finally packaged and prepared for export. The quality inspection happens during the whole processing procedure.

Full Traceability and High Quality: From Farm to Factory to Customer

Well-trained agronomists pay frequent visits to the farmers to monitor cultivation and provide technical assistance where necessary. Each step of the supply chain is carefully monitored to ensure full traceability and organic integrity. We are working towards having all farmers and fields mapped and georeferenced, resulting in a fully digitalized internal control system.

Social & Environmental Impact

Production

- 1200+ ha of cashew fields are certified organic since 2019.
- 1200 farmers received training on organic and good agricultural practices, as well as access to crop pre-financing.

Certification

- Obtained the Africa Cashew Alliance (ACA) seal certificate. This guarantees the social-ethical standard of workers.
- Implemented the ISO 9001 standard and are moving towards ISO 22000

Processing

- Improved the working conditions of staff & living conditions of the surrounding populations.
- High rate of women involvement.
- Diversification activities for the local market
- Care for the environment through the recovery of waste from production

Our Farmer Stories

"I used to let people work on my field without instructions and I did not control their practices. Since I received training on organic and Good Agricultural Practices,

I control who enters my field and what they do. I see that my soils are more fertile now and my plants are healthier."

- Adama Abibatán

Local Organic Farmer from Togo

"I received training on organic practices, including composting and pre-finance for field preparations from this project. I also stopped using herbicides for 4 years. I have seen a big improvement in my own health, the health of my family and the health of the plantation. Thanks to this project, I learn every day."

- Joseph Bamana Geba
